

WEARABLE WIRELESS CAP PHONE

ABSTRACT: A cap phone (10) includes a wireless telephone (29) incorporated in a soft cap (12). Within the cap (12), a housing (30) that holds telephone electronics and a battery (32) is supported under a crown (14) by arcuate ribs (44, 48). Movably supported by a rib (44) and wired to the electronics is a retractable earphone (52) and a retractable microphone arm (61) attached to a microphone (60). Also wired to the electronics is a telephone keyboard (34) and an LCD display screen (36) mounted to a cap visor (24). In another preferred embodiment, a microphone (78) is mounted under a cap visor (79) and an earpiece (75) is detachably mounted to the visor (79).
